STAYS FROM A DAY TO A YEAR:
SAKURA HOUSE PROVIDES WIDE SELECTION OF ACCOMMODATIONS FOR GUESTS GOING TO TOKYO

November 28, 2015

SAKURA HOUSE, a pioneering real estate agency providing rooms for rent to foreign guests going to Tokyo, continues to expand its services as Japan's capital prepares for the 2020 Olympics.

Long known for providing Tokyo area apartments, share houses and dormitories to Tokyo's foreign community, SAKURA HOUSE is allowing guests a wider selection for their Tokyo accommodations by working together with its sister SAKURA HOTELS/HOSTEL to provide accommodations for shorter stays. The three SAKURA HOTELS are located in Tokyo's Ikebukuro, Jimbocho and Hatagaya, while SAKURA HOSTEL is located in historic Asakusa.

SAKURA HOUSE's 1200 rooms located in 120 residences are intended for stays lasting one month and longer; meanwhile, the SAKURA HOTELS/HOSTEL are for shorter stays. Both SAKURA HOUSE and SAKURA HOTELS/HOSTEL have multilingual staff and are well-known among Tokyo's international visitors and residents for their personalized service; they are also known for holding events for its residents, introducing them to Sumo, Matsuri festivals, Shuji calligraphy, Sake rice wine, Kimonos, etc. One well-received event took residents to the exclusive horse owners' seats at Tokyo Racetrack.

Since its foundation in 1992, SAKURA HOUSE, along with its sister SAKURA HOTELS/HOSTEL, has continued to improve its services to provide the best for its residents, who come from over 100 countries around the world.
